News from the Chair

I've just passed through the Los Angeles Tom Bradley International Terminal and seen a very simple yet meaningful artwork. It's a display of vintage book covers. It reminds me that some things last a lot longer than others. Our humanity is bound by birth and death. Some of us last 100 years, some, like my buddy whose end is imminent in far flung Philadelphia, gets 59. A vintage book might last 1000+ years, classic sculptures in Europe are often 500+.

Age is a concept that varies for each individual experience. At 56 I have an aching back and knees. But I'm here and enjoying most of what life offers us. Art in all its forms offers me much enjoyment. I love going to the movies, watching plays and reading all sorts of books. Like age though my experience of art varies, as does yours, a bit like a red wine. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

Critics generally raved about Blade Runner 2049. My wife and I agreed it was just blah. I recognised some amazing talent in making the film, but I didn't see much in the departments of script or sharper editing. Like "The Lord of the Rings" it was a bloated and less than satisfying entertainment.

But it took me out of my day to day life and asked me to consider the film maker's art.

I was recently enchanted by some art at Estuary and purchased my wife's birthday present and a Christmas present for the house...oh and in trying to get the charity rolling along I also won a silent auction for a piece of art I could not bear to see raise only $50. But no one beat me out...try harder next time will you.

Kim tells me courses are very full in term 4 and that we have an unprecedented number of people in our clay classes. welcome to Estuary folks! A place you can have your individual experience of art and consider its longevity.

Cheers
John Davies

Give the Gift of Art this year

Planning for 2018 is well under way with a great line up of tried and tested popular classes as well as some new ones and weekend workshops. If you are interested in teaching or running a workshop please contact Leigh ASAP to discuss your proposals. We are looking for an adults Oil Painting tutor, a children's clay tutor and an adults pastel tutor.

Our galleries are filling up fast so if you are an individual or a group keen to have an exhibition please contact me soon to book your space. The month of March will bring "Cut in Colour" a comprehensive mosaic art programme featuring artist talks, workshops, an exhibition and hands on learning. We are always grateful to Creative Communities for their support of this programme.

Casual studio use: please ensure that you sign in and sign out every time you use the studio on a casual basis. This is important to enable us to comply with Health and Safety regulations and for security purposes. We almost locked someone in the building last week.

Costs: $5 members half-day (3.5 hours per session)
$9 full day (between 3.5 and 7 hours)

With the gift-giving season

just around the corner there will be two art markets - a great place to start shopping for those gifts for special people in our lives. For artists you can still book your stall or register to put in artwork into the Annual The Cash and Carry under $500 art sale.

Cash & Carry delivery dates: 25, 26 & 27 November

Opening: to coincide with the first Art market on Friday 01 December

The Christmas Markets:

- Friday 01 December
- Sunday 03 December

Limited space so please make your booking soon.

See you in the Gallery

Kim Boyd

Jodie Wilson
"Out on a Limb"

*"You've got to go out on a limb,
You need to believe in yourself,
and never give in"*

Are the words that inspired Jodie Wilson's new collection of work.

In her up and coming exhibition 'Out on a Limb' Jodie is branching out in a different direction with her weaving. The exhibition to be held at the Orewa Estuary Art Centre in November will showcase her unique, tactile and botanical inspired wall hangings using a variety of different textiles.

'Expressing my love of both nature and weaving into pieces of art has definitely been a challenge. Creating the pieces as realistically as I could, to exactly how I had envisioned, with the logistics of it all has been the hardest part...also the fact that these pieces are completely different to my usual work... means I am definitely following along with the theme of going out on a limb, it's taken a lot of courage, it's scary!'

Jodie has been weaving since early 2016 and launched herself and her work in July 2016 with an exhibition titled 'And She Flew'.

Since then she has been busy making commissioned pieces for customers in NZ and overseas. Over the last year Jodie has had her work featured in Your Home & Garden Magazine, and The Australian Women's Weekly. Recently, contestants off The Block NZ commissioned a piece which has appeared on the television show. Jodie also runs weaving workshops where you can learn the tips and tricks and the basics of weaving.

You can contact Jodie via Facebook or Instagram (And She Flew) or email Jodie.wilson@hotmail.com
