April 2017 - Newsletter

News from the Chair

Boom, where did the first three months go? Time flies so fast these days, everyone is so busy, so frantic, so deadline focused. OK, maybe not everyone, but everyone's aware of many people living that frantic life.

Take a moment to think about someone who has chosen a full time life in the arts. These people hopefully have a little more serenity in their lives, offering the space for them to be creative. But imagine the challenges that they must face. Disturbing what I imagine is their relative serenity is their constant need to make a dollar to survive. To sell a painting, to be cast in a role, to be commissioned to sculpt, it's not necessarily an easy life.

So thank you to the artists. We're currently displaying local art from our artists and their tutors. Come on along and spot the artists with that serenity I refer to displayed through their art, or at least your imagining their serenity. It will be a serene time for you.

After a recent meeting at Driftwood Café I wandered down amongst the action on the Estuary. It seems a popular spot to recreate and learn water skills. There seem to be frequent visitors from Orewa College and others there with kayaks, wake boards and more. What I loved happening upon the other day was an artist taking a painted snapshot. He was part of a group painting the Estuary and I was quite taken by his watercolour.

So to mix art with serenity with activity on and around the water, we're here for you.

Kind wishes to you all
John Davies

REFLECTIONS with Kim Boyd

EAC is having a make-over this month with a full repaint (new colour scheme to fit in with the new education wing) new guttering and a full roof repaint. This is a much needed exciting project and we are very thankful to our Hibiscus and Bays Local Board.

Also new to our area is the public sculpture recently installed

Coming up is our April School Holiday Programme running from 17 to 28 April and classes are filling up fast. On Friday 28 April from 11am to 2pm we will be running a Silk Painting “drop-in” project with Kerry Cline. Kerry has just returned to New Zealand after living in Seward Alaska since 1996 where she opened her Gallery/Studio. She enjoys working in different mediums, Dye on silk, Oil on Canvas, and Acrylics and large public installations such as “A movement of 82 yards of silk, designed and hung with the students from Seward High School”. Kerry’s commissioned works include: Murals, oil paintings and silks currently on display in New York, Los Angeles, Michigan, Utah, Hong Kong and Alaska more recently work in Hospice Show in Matakana. Come along at any time and fabric paint a round silk panel. The cost of this will be $10 per person and is a great activity for kids and adults of all ages.

Sadly daylight savings ends this weekend so don't forget to turn your clocks back.

I look forward to seeing you at the opening / meet the artists Hilary Campbell, Jasper Boer, Jo Bain and Ray McTeigue.

Kim Boyd
