G<sub>2</sub><sup>allery</sup>

Living in different countries has influenced her work. Since immigrating to New Zealand, art created by Dana has been based on Symbolism and imaginative art work that challenges the viewer to spend more time to gauge all of its meaning. The artist uses a richness of symbols, clear outlines and sharp colours to illustrate a magical world.

“LIQUID” contemporary painting by Michelle Chapman

“My first attempts at painting were abstract depictions of nature and the environment. I found that colour was my starting point in all works and appreciating light became important.

“Positive - Negative” by Ruth Sumner

Showing the fragility of our native ecosystem, using the negative space around the foliage to form the images. They are a reflection of what could be left behind and what we would no longer see if the forests were destroyed.

Chair's Report - Stephen Lyttelton

When you read this, I shall be in London, trying to avoid being caught up in the negative ramifications of Donald Trump's State visit which is on while I am there!

With a smorgasbord of creative arts' offerings on view in London, I am making sure that I find time to contemplate the abstract paintings of my favourite artists, Mark Rothko and Peter Doig, with both of their works well represented at the Tate Modern gallery on the South Bank.

More relevant to the Estuary Arts Centre, on my travels around the UK I plan to visit smaller scale galleries and creative art centres around central London, Aberdeen, Edinburgh, York and Winchester to see what exciting innovative trends that might be evident at these places and also to see what aspects of their activities might be successfully transferable to our own Centre here in Orewa. I plan to keep Kim in the loop as to what I find, on my return to the Coast.

Today I visited the wonderful Kew Gardens in London. There was an art exhibition on display at Kew by American Dale Chihuly, the worlds most celebrated glass artist. I would like to share with you some of the stunning artworks that were on display across the gardens , their glass houses and gallery.

With best wishes

New works by Diana Pinto

Introducing our new tutor

Gallery Five (upstairs)

03 to 28 July 2019

Opening function Saturday 08 June, 3pm to 5pm

Diana is a Colombian, born in San Gil, Santander in 1990. She started drawing and painting before she could even write, an activity which to date she has never stopped.

Diana studied Industrial Design in El Bosque University back in Colombia. In one of the subjects she learnt how to draw and render objects using professional markers and pencil colours. She completed a masters in Graphic Design in Florence, Italy. During Art History lessons she studied the great art masters in Florence.

Diana recently moved to New Zealand and started painting in acrylics on different canvases like pots, wooden circles, etc.

All my artworks are handmade using professional markers ,pencil colours and acrylics.

My designs are inspired by women who have their own personalities surrounded by nature and animals. I explore the natural habitat and the beauty of the characters. Each image is a new story and there you can find a new and different character. Every piece is colourful , vibrant and unique.

Have your say on a water sculpture at Moana Reserve

Water is an intrinsic part of a sculpture planned for Moana Reserve in Ōrewa which replaces the old fountain that had to be removed several years ago.

Local artists have created five designs that will be on show at the Estuary Arts Centre in June giving people an opportunity to choose their favourite.

The new sculpture will attract a lot of interest given its proximity to the town centre and beach which is why the Hibiscus and Bays Local Board are keen for feedback on it.

Chair Julia Parfitt says because the reserve's old fountain couldn't be repaired and has to be replaced. The replacement water feature must fit strict criteria governing council's renewal budget and these funds can't be allocated to other projects.

"We are excited and impressed with the designs and hope that our community are too. Everyone loves and is very proud of our beautiful public spaces. So, it's important to choose an option we can enjoy for years to come."

Estuary Arts Centre Manager Kim Boyd agrees and says public opinion about public artwork can be polarising.

"It is important to trigger a healthy debate in the engagement process. We encourage you to have your say and keep an open mind during the engagement process."

Designer Nick Hindson says that the designers are very excited about receiving feedback from the public consultation.

"Creating the right balance of art, sculpture, water feature and sense of place has been the centre of tension in the design and creation of these concepts."

From 18 June, details of the five designs will be on the council website at: www.aucklandcouncil.govt.nz/haveyoursay

1) Airborne                      2) Bloom                      3) Fleet                      4) Harp                      5) Pacific Motion

Ways to have your say:

1. Attend a drop-in session to view the designs and talk to the artists on Tuesday, 18 June 6pm-8pm or Saturday, 22 June 10am-12pm at Estuary Arts Centre, 214 Hibiscus Coast Highway, Ōrewa.
2. Give feedback online at aucklandcouncil.govt.nz/haveyoursay. The survey is open from 18 June to 7 July 2019.

Artists: John Mulholland, Philipp Ripa

Artist Statements

Airborne presents the magic and miracle of flight alongside the magic and miracle of utter self-belief and exuberance. Birds can fly so can I, across the face of the moon, sun and earth. Airborne celebrates Orewa's uniqueness, vision and preparedness.

Bird: combination of 4mm stainless steel plate with paint finish on 50 per cent of surface area, mirror finish 50 per cent of surface area and 40mm diameter stainless steel pipe space frame, overall wing span 5m, bop\ 2.1m.

Bloom seeks to embody our coastal land, sand and wave forms, tree and plant life, with elegance, simplicity, enhanced scale and companionable form. By day, transpiring clouds of water vapour from a multi-faceted matrix, it replenishes the atmosphere and refreshes passers-by. By night, transcendent, as its luminous bloom of colours wash the sky.

Leaf: 6mm stainless steel, paint, engraved, cutout pattern 30 per cent of surface area, mirror finish 70 per cent of surface area Stem: 50mm diameter stainless steel pipe, approximately 2.5m long with 7m radius. Head: 3mm stainless steel, approximately 500mm diameter, approximately 14 faceted planes, mirror finish.

Water feature: head contains a water misting system and sealed lighting, incorporate sound.

Fleet: New Zealand was founded, named and populated by seafaring peoples - visionaries, risk takers, believers in the future of their kind. Fleet draws upon the action, magic and utter purpose of sail power and the courageous forward thinking it drove. Here, Moana Reserve, Orewa, and the people New Zealand pay tribute to such folk, with a shining fleet in a standing ovation.

Leaf: 3.5m tall sails, 3mm stainless steel, mirror finish stainless steel or powder coated.

Harp: music – as an integral part of our makeup - attracts, beguiles and transforms. It has the infinite capacity to 'tug on our heart strings' with demands beyond our understanding yet in line with our desires and visions. With 'heart strings', the harp encapsulates the human heart and its own peculiar capacity and desire for such transformation.

Leaf: 3.5m tall, Harp x2 or x3 larger than leaf. 3mm mirror finish stainless steel.

Water feature: water misting system, sealed in-ground lighting. Water feature: water misting system, sealed in-ground lighting
